LEARNING STRATEGIES

that won't bore learners to death!

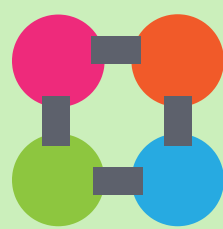

What's in it for me?

This training is all about me. What will I get out of it? Why do I need to attend? What value will I get? It's all about me, me, me!

Get 'Em Talking

Whether they are face-to-face or learning online, get them talking with other learners through group discussions or group chats.

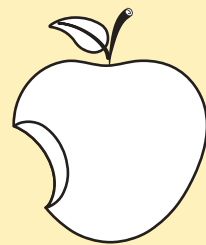

Connect the Dots

Connect previous experiences and prior knowledge with the new concepts to help the learner process the new information.

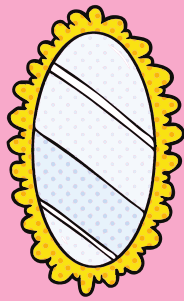

Sift & Sort

Sift through the information and sort out the information the learners must know.

Bite Sized Learnings

Create learning episodes that are 5 (nano) to 20 (micro) minutes in length.

Make it Attractive

Design and build training assets that are visually attractive.

Practice Don't Preach

What the learner practices, the learner will do. Let 'em practice what you want them to do!

Never bore your learners again!
